THE IRON ERA.

SATURDAY, March 30, 1872.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Test Monday evening a number of our citizens met in Dover Hall for the purpose of discussing the project of starting another manufactory of some kind in Dover. No definite plan of action had been taken previously, and in fact no formal call had been made for the meeting, yet quite a number were present and considerable interest was manifested. The remarkable growth and prosperity of Dover and the surrounding country of late seems to have aroused the people to a sense of their duty and a realization of the advantages possessed, and consequently the subject of the employment of the vast resources at hand has been agitated during the winter, and which culminated in a meeting as above stated.

Mr. J. L. Lawrence was elected chairman, and in a few sentences set forth the object of the meeting. He was followed by E. M. White, Esq., who addressed those present in language forcibly expressed, and which could but convey to his hearers the fact of the willful waste of those "talents," so to speak, so bountifully bestowed upon us, and the opportunities neglected. Mr. Jan. A. Goodale, in representing another interest, spoke truthfully when he suggested that too much money was invested in real estate speculation to the detriment of other and better interests; that all could not dubble therein, and that such investments were of a poor character without an increasing population. He promised to do his "level best" in the furtherance of the scheme under discussion, and was made chairman of the committee of enquiry.

Mr. L. B. Jolley said he had listened attentively to the remarks of the gentlemen who had preceded him, and said that he certainly was interested in the prosperity of the place, and would do his part toward anything that could be devised for the public weal, and clinched his remarks by stating that he was authorized by certain parties to offer an investment of $25,000 in a satisfactory business to be carried on in Dover. Messrs. E. A. Stickle, G. Garbrandt and others followed, when a committee of five was appointed to wait upon our citizens and lay before them the necessity of moving in the matter under discussion; that they particularly invite gentlemen to be present at a meeting on Monday evening, April 8th, and to call the meeting in a formal manner, and make other arrangements that they may deem proper for the perfect organization of the meeting.

The following gentlemen compose the committee: Jas. A. Goodale, E. M. White, G. Garbrandt, W. A. Dickerson, J. F. Butterworth. Since the above was written we learn that a public spirited citizen of Dover has constituted himself a suitable property for the erection of a manufactory, and that another gentleman has offered a "very desirable location" at its nominal value. "There seems to be no doubt but that with proper effort those who will take an active interest in this important object may soon realize that the agitation of this subject has not been in vain.

This concert by the Dover Cornet Band last Tuesday evening, notwithstanding the very bad condition of the sidewalks and streets, was a most successful affair, the attendance being large, and the performances highly satisfactory in every particular. So well pleased were those present that it was unanimously voted to repeat the concert the following evening. This suggestion came from the "very enthusiastic occupants of the balcony," and one would naturally suppose the second concert would have been "favored" with their presence, but unfortunately "white man is very unsartine" generally, and the observation held good in this case particularly—the audience was not as large as it should have been.

The pleasures of the entertainment were greatly enhanced by the fine instrumental performances of Mr. Hesse and Mr. Drobe, of Boonton, who were accompanied by Miss Hickey, Miss Grobe, Mrs. Drummond and Mrs. Howlett, also of Boonton, in solos and duets. Altogether it was a very pleasing affair, and we should judge very encouraging to the membership of Dover Cornet Band.

Never within the memory of the oldest inhabitant has there been such severe drought during a winter season as that which has prevailed up to within a few days. Scarcely any rain has fallen since the middle of November, and there has not been a foot of snow through the season altogether. There were but three days sleighing and that was had last December. On Monday night we had four or five inches of snow, followed by a driving rain for a short time. The frost has contracted the ground to the depth of from two and a half to three feet, and it is said that the wheat crop throughout this season is likely to be a failure.

Among the most prominent re-novations this Spring we notice that of Mr. E. Feder, Merchant Tailor, who has occupied a store in Mr. Titus Berry's building for several years. Mr. F. takes the handsome store room in W. H. McDevitt's new building, next door to Segar's new bank building. This is a most excellent place for business, and in connection with an splendid front, greater conveniences and good location Mr. Feder can and doubtless will give our citizens the benefit of his advantages.

One of the handsomest places of business in Morris county is that just occupied by Mrs. W. G. Collard as a millinery and fancy goods store, nearly opposite Mrs. L. A. White's in Blackwell street. Mrs. C. invites the ladies to call and see her new stock of Spring goods.

On Saturday the 9th inst. the children and grand-children of Mr. Eliza Shellenbarger with many friends met to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage. Mr. S. being a time-honored citizen of the thriving village of Ironia, the congratulations of a large circle of friends poured in thick and fast, and after a "feast of reason and flow of soul," the talking over of old times—the guests repaired to a bountiful table, tastefully arranged by a numerous progeny. In the evening an eloquent address was delivered by Rev. R. B. Feagles, and a letter of regret from Rev. L. L. Stoughton that he was not able to attend was read.

A few weeks since Mr. Reeves, of the same village, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage. Ironia must be a desirable location for those wishing long life and prosperity.

A quantity of paper in the waste room of the public school at Morristown was fired in some manner last Monday, but the teachers fortunately prevented a stampede of the children. There was great excitement in the town for awhile, as well there might be.

The Spring Elections in this county take place on Monday, April 8th. Our facilities for printing Election Tickets with quick dispatch are not excelled by any other printing office in the county.

Geo. Richards, Esq., of this city, has been re-elected State Director.

The supplement to the Morris Lament Asylum, which prevents the sale of liquors within a mile of that building was ordered to a third reading in the legislature last Thursday.

In joint meeting of the legislature last Wednesday Gen. W. Jenkins was elected Commissioner for Boonton.

NEW FOUNDLAND ITEMS.—A social gathering of the old residents of New Foundland met at the hotel of J. P. Brown a few evenings since, and passed a pleasant evening in social chat, and rehearsing the events of their early life and comparing them with the events of the present.

LAND BOON.—Mr. J. M. Kimble sold his farm a few days ago to Mr. Edward Dunn, for $2,400. It was recently purchased for $1,700. Kimble intends going to the far West for a place of residence.

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.—Two trains daily are now running to this point, and have been since the 15th inst. The gravel train is now filling the trestle near O. P. Peterson's, Stockholm. The road is ballasted as far as the railroad bridge near P. Tracy's. The trestle-work near the Windham dam was completed on Saturday, March 10th. The track was laid as far as the "Two Bridges" on the Franklin Road, on Saturday. About two and a half miles of track will connect the road in this section. If the weather proves favorable we may expect through trains on April 1st.

FROM PORT ORAM.

Ever since the birth of THE IRON ERA the publication day has been looked forward to with great interest, and speedily after the arrival of the mail its local topics are thoroughly discussed by our citizens with an appreciative sense of a good local department. It is even a pleasure to read of the events transpiring in our own neighborhood with which most of us are conversant, but to get reliable accounts of the accidents, incidents and public gossip of our neighboring towns and villages is indeed a treat, and is not only a luxury but has become a necessity, never before realized until your advent among us. Your geographical descriptions of the surrounding country, and the bringing into notice the villages with the vast improvements constantly going on throughout this whole section of country, showing to the inhabitants of other parts of the country that we are an enterprising and thorough-going people, has brought many strangers among us seeking an investment of labor and capital, and yet, Mr. Editor, I am afraid that your efforts for the public welfare are not appreciated as they should be. But rest assured that there are very many who do appreciate the Era, and who always take advantage of any opportunity to further your interests, looking upon them as being co-equal with their own.

We often hear of the wonderful growth of the West, but do we fully realize the wonderful growth of the East in our efforts to look beyond our western horizon? But a few short years since a single house hardly worthy to be called such, marked the spot where now stands Port Oram, with its population of 300 families. A fine church with several stores, one of which is among the very largest in the county of Morris, with a fine lumber yard, spacious streets laid out, and not an old building in the place. Surely, the stranger would say, this is a western town—"clearing," built up in the midst of and surrounded by timber, and like all western towns of this character there is much labor to be done here before the place can be beautified; but it will surely be done, and the day is not far distant.

Like Dover we are much in want of water. For the past week some of our people have played the authorities to turn the water into the canal, which just now would be pure and good. The new Parsonage is undergoing a renovation for the reception of our new Pastor. We hope it will be more pleasant than the old one. A temperance lecture will be given in the new Hall next Thursday evening, under the auspices of the L. O. G. T., by Mr. Chas. E. Hill. Doors open at 7 o'clock; admission at half-past 7 o'clock; admission free. Neighboring lodges and friends of the cause are invited. The Temperance Cornet Band, under the leadership of Mr. Harris, is making great progress and is not sparing of time or money. The expenses amount to over $400 per annum; $100 of which is paid for rent. This should not be. Will the citizens give them free use of the Council room?

A sad accident occurred in Morristown last Monday, preceded by the following circumstances: A little deaf and dumb boy named William Pruden, ten years of age, well known to our citizens, went into the Iron Bank on Monday morning and upon evincing considerable curiosity in a gold watch hanging on a desk in front of one of the clerks, to please him it was placed in his hand, and when the attention of the clerk was drawn from him he walked out with it. His father was notified of the circumstances, and obtaining possession of the watch, returned it to the owner. In the mean time officer Holly hearing of the transaction proceeded to the Public School where he expected to find the boy, with the intention of recovering the property. As soon as he appeared on the school grounds young Pruden left, and taking the railroad track was struck by the cylinder head or beam of a passing locomotive, on the back of the head at the base of the skull, crushing it in and breaking his neck.—Hammer.

The Senate last Wednesday passed the bill allowing the Central Railroad Co. to issue an additional $5,000,000 of capital stock. As a natural sequence to the Erie legislation of last winter, the Senate refused, in a vote of 5 to 14, to place in the bill an amendment offered by Mr. Cutler, requiring the company to pay the same tax to the State as other companies pay, and as this company should undoubtedly long ago have done. Mr. Cutler advocated his amendment in the best and ablest speech of the session, full of strong points, which were unanswerable because they were unanswerable. Some undeveloped influence prevailed, however, and the amendment was voted down. Affairs seem rapidly to be assuming a shape in our Legislature of which it can truly be said that the people have no right to suppose that corporations are bound to respect.

HOLY WEEK.—The present week, which is known as Holy Week, is celebrated in the Roman Catholic, Greek and Episcopal Churches, with unusual solemnity; special services being appointed for each day in which are rehearsed at large the sufferings of Christ as they are portrayed by the four Evangelists: that by hearing and reading the history of his passion, the minds of the people may be the better prepared for the mystery of his resurrection. Sunday that was called Palm Sunday, being the day in which our Saviour entered Jerusalem, the people streaming their garments and palm branches in the way, Friday (yesterday) is called Good Friday, in commemoration of the crucifixion of our Lord. It has been observed from the earliest ages of the church as a day of fasting and prayer, as we learn from the apostolic writings, and from Eusebius, who states that when, under Constantine, Christianity was established in the Roman Empire, the holding of courts, markets, etc., on this day was strictly forbidden. The day has always been set apart in Connecticut by its Governor as a day of fasting and prayer, and is known throughout New England as Fast day. Sunday (to-morrow) will be Easter Sunday, and is so called from the season when our Lord rose from the dead, celebrated by the church in all ages with greater solemnity than any other festival. It is a movable feast, occurring at any date between March 21st and April 26th, and is held at about the time of the Passover, though it is seldom that both feasts occur on the same day. It is a day of enjoyment because the restrictions imposed during the preceding period of Lent are no longer to be observed. It is more generally believed that it was first observed by their immediate successors in 63.

Mineral Notes.—A quarry has been opened on the "Jenny Jump" mountain near Hope, Warren Co., from which many tons of beautiful rose crystal marble have been shipped to Philadelphia and elsewhere. "Jenny Jump" is rich in iron, lead and other valuable minerals. This locality has heretofore been neglected or overlooked by mineralogists. A new interest seems to be awakened, valuable discoveries of iron are reported daily, and successful prospecting still continues.

What is now known as "Kishpaugh" mine is located near the road leading from Hope to Hackensack, 2½ miles from the former place. It is a small mine, about two years ago, it was owned by about 100 persons, but was not opened until last Fall, when it was immediately purchased by a Jersey City company for $10,000, including the farm. Since then hundreds of tons have been taken out and delivered at the railroad for shipment to Pennsylvania, besides large quantities used at Oxford Furnace. Three shafts have been sunk, and the vein followed far enough to show that the quality of ore is that can be desired. While every indication goes to prove the supply inexhaustible. The shafts are sunk in open, cultivated fields, where the owners have gone on year after year growing corn, rye, potatoes, &c., without a suspicion of the immense wealth buried but a few feet below the surface. Last week the above mine was sold to the Crane Iron Company of Pennsylvania for the handsome sum of $120,000, which, as I understand it, means business; and demonstrated, substantially, and most conclusively, that the Jenny-Jump Mountain is destined to rank high among the many rich mineral districts for which Northern New Jersey is so justly celebrated.—Success Rep.

CODED MINE RAILROAD.—The Warwick Advertiser says: It is said a new survey for the above road will be speedily made from the Ogden mine, in Morris county, to the furnace of the Double Pond, running through Southtown, Canistota, and the mines, and thence to the furnace. This is a project of great importance to the section of country through which it runs, as recent developments render it certain that immense veins of iron ore lie subbed in the rocky crusts lying contiguous to the line of the projected road.

THE BEXON.—Another religious sect in England. Its members are called "Comprehensionists." We quote from a bulletin which they have put out: "What is called Comprehension? It is a practical co-operation in every direction to unite mankind into one church." "The principle," we are further told, "of this church is in the character of the individual as having a feeling of personality—an inclination to separation and an attraction to unity. The great is a belief in the unity of all. All of which is as clear as mud. Beyond it." A thief was lately caught breaking into a cage. He had already got through the first two bars when a policeman came up and beat him into a state. The rest may be imagined.

Seven Reasons Why

CESS

FOR HORSES.

WILL CURE RINGBONE, SWEENEY, SPAVIN, FEVER FEVER, FOUNDER, STIFF JOINTS, SWELLINGS, GALLS, ULCERS, AND ALL KINDS OF ALL KINDS.

FIRST.—It is composed of the most powerful and restorative liquids known in chemistry.

SECOND.—Combined with the above is a Medicinal Oil, made expressly for this Liniment, and mixed by an entirely new process.

THIRD.—The use of this powerful and penetrating liniment is to drive or force in this beautiful Medicinal Oil, which lubricates the joints and muscles and immediately cures the disease and compels it to loosen its tenacity and poisonous fangs.

FOURTH.—This Medicinal Oil is used for the same reason that a good mechanic always uses oil to make his machinery work with ease and precision. So in the same way the muscles and joints of our animals should be lubricated if we wish to have them travel with rapidity and ease.

FIFTH.—It is very soothing in the action, will not burn or blister the animal like most of the "rot" liniments of the day.

SIXTH.—Not one drop of tincture of cayenne or red pepper can be found in its composition, for we hold that no liniment can be effective unless it burns and blisters the animal until the muscles are hard and stiff as iron.

SEVENTH.—Every bottle is warranted to give good satisfaction or your money will be refunded. This shows conclusively that the proprietors have full confidence in this preparation, and prove for the fourth time that the U. S. S. is the best liniment in the world for horses.
